

The World is Round

Some 500 years ago there was a discovery that changed everything world wide. Yes it was that this Earth was not flat, but round.

Can you imagine what that did for mankind? It opened up a whole new perspective for the humans. It created a frenzy for explorers and other interested parties. It became a hope and vision that there might be a better way to live and prosper. It gave suppressed folks some kind of horizon to pursue, it gave counties new goals to seek out, it changed everything.

Now we have the opportunity to do the same with a giant change in consciousness and priorities. How long have the humans been killing each other? Who knows, but it seems that it has been forever and we have not evolved enough to change it. We could solve all our issues with a game not weapons. It seems like greed and power are still in majority control on how we treat each other and the world. The real issue it seems is right or wrong, them or us, good and evil, black and white, male or female, this country or that one, christians, jews, muslims, hindus, and so on. We are so programmed to think in ways that put us against others for our own satisfaction. Them and us. There is always an enemy out there, no body is right if everybody is wrong.

Let's look at the world today, what are we doing in foreign soil with our very advanced military? Why are we really there? It has to be for power and greed. We do not need to be killing people any more for wealth, however historically this is what the humans do. Just because we have the virtue of freewill it has happened over the years. That does not mean we can not change if we really have freewill. Are we so prograded by corporations, by our media, politicians, foreign fears to say, stop killing people. We are not just a state, country, region, we are the World called Earth. I believe that we kill people because of fear. Fear that we do not have enough, fear that they might kill us, fear, that we all live by.

The recent controversy over being vaccinated for the covid flu proves that fear both from the ones taking it and the ones that wont shows how we all are manipulated by fear. Fear has and is being used to sell many products today.

When we realize that the billions of people here on this earth are ALL different, different DNA different perspectives, different backgrounds. Yes, there are no two people alike. Why? I guess we need all the perspectives here to take care of our business. Then what is our business? It is to learn and grow with some basic guidelines. It is to find out who we are and why we are here. As the Universe dictates we are here to be in harmony. Harmony with each other, the planet and all its inhabitants. There is wonderful harmony in the Universe so why can't mankind catch on??
